COMMITTEE OF THE SENATE PROBING VETERANS BUREAU

COL. CHARLES R. FORBES, FORMER DIRECTOR OF BUREAU, IN SWEEPING DENIAL

ALSO CHARGED COMPENSATION OF DISABLED VETERAN DEPENDENT ON "PULL"

(By United Press)
Washington, Oct. 31.—The senate committee's investigation of alleged maladministration of the veterans bureau returned today to an examination of the acquisitions by the government of the hospital site at Livermore, Calif.

Lucian Johnson, California vineyard owner, who sold the property to the veterans bureau was summoned to testify concerning circumstances surrounding the purchase, which caused a storm of criticism in circles of the Pacific coast.

In the examination of the Livermore affair and General Johnson, F. O'Ryan, counsel for the committee who has been gathering data since early last spring, revealed the scope of the charges he is bringing against the administration of the veterans bureau and especially against the former director, Charles R. Forbes.

In rapid succession O'Ryan drew to the committee's attention extraordinary happenings involving extortion, debauchery and graft. He has summoned witnesses to testify that many of the operations of the veterans bureau have been administered for private gain and to the detriment of public service. Other witnesses have declared that the compensation secured by disabled veterans have been in many cases directly measured by the political influence they could bring to bear in their support.

To so many of these charges as involving him personally, Colonel Forbes has replied with a sweeping denial. He has declared that most of the charges are based on deliberate falsehoods incited by personal enmity against him, but by the advice of his counsel, Colonel Forbes will not take the stand in his own behalf to defend himself from the accumulating mass of accusations until General O'Ryan has completed the introduction of all evidence.

Colonel Forbes said today he was gaining in strength and feeling much better than when the investigation opened. He said he was conserving his resources that he might prove strong enough to run the gauntlet of spending hours on the stand being cross-examined on his conduct while at the head of the bureau.

ELECTRICIAN'S MATE TELLS OF BEING TRAPPED AT BOTTOM OF THE SEA

C-5, IN CANAL ZONE WATERS, SANK AFTER COLLISION WITH STEAMSHIP

By SEYMOUR PAUL.
(Copyright 1923 by United Press)
Balboa, Canal Zone, Oct. 31.—"After watching the clock for 15 hours we could stand it no longer. The last 20 minutes were terrible."

Laurence T. Brown, chief electrician's mate of the U. S. submarine C-5, which sank in canal zone waters, today gave the United Press his story of how it feels to be trapped for many hours in a disabled submarine on the bottom of the sea where every breath brings death nearer.

Brown, who hails from Lowell, Mass., and Henry Breault, 19, of White Plains, New York, were rescued alive from the sunken submarine.

"I was below resting before going on duty when the crash came," said Brown.

The crash was a collision with a steamship.

"I was aroused by Breault. We both went into the torpedo room, closing the door behind us. The boat sank in thirty seconds, settling in 40 feet of water at an angle of 70 degrees to starboard."

Had no Food or Water

"The lights went out about thirty seconds after we went down. We had a flashlight but no food and no water."

Forty-five minutes after going down the batteries in the extra compartment exploded and the fire burned fifteen minutes, making it very hot.

"After three hours we knew they were working on the boat as we could hear everything plainly."

"I knocked on the hull as far forward as possible, and Breault as far aft as possible so the rescuers would know there were two of us. Breault played with the hammer to indicate we were in good shape. The air pressure was very strong and after 20 hours we both had a severe headache."

"We were confident we could hold out 48 hours and that a crane would raise us in that time. The first hoist was made 12 hours after the sinking. It failed, but the boat was set on an even keel and we could move around better."

Watched Clock Fifteen Hours

"We had a clock, but after watching it for fifteen hours, we could stand it no longer and forgot it."

"When the hoist started that finally brought us to the top the rush of air was terrific. The last twenty minutes were terrible."

"Then we heard the waters splashing over the top, and our comrades walking on deck, and we knew we were up. Breault opened the hatch and the light was so bright I could not find my way up."

Diver Was a Hero

Brown looks none the worse for his experience, and expressed deep gratitude to the Panama canal diver, Shepherd Shreve, who worked constantly until the boat was raised and was in a worse condition at the end than the imprisoned sailors.

Chief Machinist Mate's Story
Charles R. Butler of New Haven, chief machinist's mate who went down with the submarine had a miraculous escape after he had been submerged eight minutes.

"I was at the throttle when the crash came," he said. "I was knocked down and tried to get up several times but was knocked over by the water coming in the hatch. Finally I climbed out of the way of the rush of water which formed a whirlpool

ANOTHER TREPHINED SKULL IS UNEARTHED

CALLLED EVIDENCE OF SURGERY PRACTICE 1,000 YEARS BEFORE CLIFF DWELLERS

New York, Oct. 31.—Evidence of what is believed to be the practice of surgery on this continent several thousand years before the era of the Pueblo cliff-dwellers, has been revealed by the discovery of an additional trephined skull near San Cristobal, Mexico.

Announcement was made by the American Museum of Natural History that a new skull, extremely long and narrow, and undeformed, had been unearthed by Dr. L. R. Sullivan, physical anthropologist on Sept. 28.

The skull has an oval hole, three centimeters long and two centimeters wide, showing a wound had made an entrance necessary, according to the description forwarded to the museum. Dr. Sullivan said the patient undoubtedly died from the operation.

The discovery of trephined skulls was first made by Earl H. Morris, the museum's explorer in New Mexico, last August. Since then two other skulls of similar type had been found.

as it came down the engine hatch. I pulled myself into an air pocket, took off my clothes and then stuck my foot into the hatchway to see if the rush of waters had stopped.

"It was, so I swung out and was carried up twelve feet when my head struck the hatch cover which was partly closed. The blow nearly knocked me senseless, but with all my strength I opened the hatch. A rush of water shot me through 35 feet of water. The force of air raised me out of the water until only my feet touched. I yelled for help and immediately was picked up."

Breault was suffering from the shock after his rescue. He was rushed to the navy hospital at Coco-bolo and there placed in the submarine room under pressure which will be gradually relieved until it is normal. He is now conscious.

Tried to Save Others

Breault, a torpedo man, was the hero of the sinking. He was on deck when the submarine was struck. Instead of saving himself, he ran along the grating, jumped into a manhole and attempted to save the boat and those below deck. It was an act of pure heroism as he could easily have jumped to his own safety. Breault is the hero of the canal zone. Devout people here asked people of the United States to pray for his recovery.

Metzler and Smith, two victims of the accident, were buried yesterday at Mt. Hope. The submarine at that time was still held up by a crane. It may be abandoned as it was scheduled to go out of commission.

FORCE OF IMPACT SPLITS THE CAR FROM END TO END

ACCIDENT HAPPENED ON LAST EVENING ONE MILE SOUTH OF TENSTRIKE

FORMER SHERIFF, ANDREW JOHNSON, DRIVING CAR, SERIOUSLY INJURED

One man is dead, another in a very critical condition and a third is said to have sustained a broken leg when a Buick automobile struck a tree about a mile south of Tenstrike, Tuesday evening.

The occupants were Andrew Johnson, ex-sheriff of Beltrami county, who was driving, it is said, and who is in a serious condition and not expected to live, Ole Ongstead, reported to be connected with a Bemidji garage, who was killed instantly, and the proprietor of a meat market in Nymore, whose name could not be learned, but whose leg was broken.

Details of the accident could not be learned. It is thought that the automobile was traveling at a very high rate of speed when the driver either lost control of his machine or the steering gear broke. The car left the road and plunged into a large tree some twenty feet to one side. The impact was so great that it is said to have virtually split the machine from front to rear.

The victims of the accident were picked up by the south-bound passenger train from International Falls and taken to Bemidji, where the injured are being taken care of at the hospital.

Passengers of the train brought to Brainerd the report on the accident.

STATE DRAWS ON INACTIVE DEPOSITS IN BANKS OF STATE

FIRST DRAFT WAS FOR $1,500,000 ENTIRE $7,000,000 MAY SOON BE TAKEN

DEFICIT AT END OF 30 DAYS, SAYS RINES, WILL BE $8,000,000

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 31.—Minnesota today began drawing on the inactive deposits in banks about the state.

The first draft was for $1,500,000. Unless revenue appears from some source, the entire $7,000,000 on deposit in these banks will be withdrawn within 30 days and the state will then have to start borrowing.

The deficit at the end of thirty days, Henry Rines, state treasurer, estimated today, will be $8,000,000.

The rural credits bureau placed $2000,000 from a bond issue in the treasury August 27, half to be drawn in sixty days and the remainder in 90 days. There has been such heavy drafts on this, Rines said, that only $500,000 is left.

The revenue fund has been a negative quantity for some time with money to meet the current government expenses coming from the other funds.

In addition, the state must pay some time next month $2,000,000 in school aid which should have been paid this month.

The discovery of trephined skulls was first made by Earl H. Morris, the museum's explorer in New Mexico, last August. Since then two other skulls of similar type had been found.

As it came down the engine hatch, I pulled myself into an air pocket, took off my clothes and then stuck my foot into the hatchway to see if the rush of waters had stopped.

"It was, so I swung out and was carried up twelve feet when my head struck the hatch cover which was partly closed. The blow nearly knocked me senseless, but with all my strength I opened the hatch. A rush of water shot me through 35 feet of water. The force of air raised me out of the water until only my feet touched. I yelled for help and immediately was picked up."

Breault was suffering from the shock after his rescue. He was rushed to the navy hospital at Coco-bolo and there placed in the submarine room under pressure which will be gradually relieved until it is normal. He is now conscious.

Tried to Save Others

Breault, a torpedo man, was the hero of the sinking. He was on deck when the submarine was struck. Instead of saving himself, he ran along the grating, jumped into a manhole and attempted to save the boat and those below deck. It was an act of pure heroism as he could easily have jumped to his own safety. Breault is the hero of the canal zone. Devout people here asked people of the United States to pray for his recovery.

Metzler and Smith, two victims of the accident, were buried yesterday at Mt. Hope. The submarine at that time was still held up by a crane. It may be abandoned as it was scheduled to go out of commission.

FORCE OF IMPACT SPLITS THE CAR FROM END TO END

ACCIDENT HAPPENED ON LAST EVENING ONE MILE SOUTH OF TENSTRIKE

FORMER SHERIFF, ANDREW
JOHNSON, DRIVING CAR,
SERIOUSLY INJURED

One man is dead, another in a very critical condition and a third is said to have sustained a broken leg when a Buick automobile struck a tree about a mile south of Tenstrike, Tuesday evening.

The occupants were Andrew Johnson, ex-sheriff of Beltrami county, who was driving, it is said, and who is in a serious condition and not expected to live, Ole Ongstead, reported to be connected with a Bemidji garage, who was killed instantly, and the proprietor of a meat market in Nymore, whose name could not be learned, but whose leg was broken.

Details of the accident could not be learned. It is thought that the automobile was traveling at a very high rate of speed when the driver either lost control of his machine or the steering gear broke. The car left the road and plunged into a large tree some twenty feet to one side. The impact was so great that it is said to have virtually split the machine from front to rear.

The victims of the accident were picked up by the south-bound passenger train from International Falls and taken to Bemidji, where the injured are being taken care of at the hospital.

Passengers of the train brought to Brainerd the report on the accident.

Keep on Your Own Side

There are quite a few people in Minnesota who do not know how to drive on a center-marked paved road. It is comparatively new in this state. If they should get into some other state where pavements are marked down the center, they will learn something, learn it quick, get run-over or "pinched." Owatonna, Faribault, Northfield, Farmington, Twin City and all other papers along the line, please copy for a lot of folks driving up that way do not seem to have heard the news—Keep on your own side.—Le Sueur Center Democrat

STATE DRAWS ON INACTIVE DEPOSITS IN BANKS OF STATE

FIRST DRAFT WAS FOR $1,500,000
ENTIRE $7,000,000 MAY SOON
BE TAKEN

DEFICIT AT END OF 30 DAYS,
SAYS RINES, WILL BE
$8,000,000

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 31.—Minnesota today began drawing on the inactive deposits in banks about the state.

The first draft was for $1,500,000. Unless revenue appears from some source, the entire $7,000,000 on deposit in these banks will be withdrawn within 30 days and the state will then have to start borrowing.

The deficit at the end of thirty days, Henry Rines, state treasurer, estimated today, will be $8,000,000. The rural credits bureau placed $200,000 from a bond issue in the treasury August 27, half to be drawn in sixty days and the remainder in 90 days. There has been such heavy drafts on this, Rines said, that only $500,000 is left.

The revenue fund has been a negative quantity for some time with money to meet the current government expenses coming from the other funds.

In addition, the state must pay some time next month $2,000,000 in school aid which should have been paid this month.

ASK MINING COMPANIES TO PAY THEIR TAXES

Expression.

Of course an artist's whole problem must be, as Carlyle wrote to me, the expressing with articulate clearness, the thought in him—I am almost inclined to say that clear expression should be his only work and care, for he is born, ordained, such as he is—and not born learned in putting what was born in him into words—whatever can be clearly spoken out to be. But "bricks and mortar" is very easily said, and some of the thoughts in "Sordello" not so readily. . . . I sin forty times in a day by light words and untrue to the thought.—Robert Browning

Country of Women Smokers.

In Haiti, the country of the famous Toussaint l'Ouverture, the women nearly all smoke big black cigars, and the higher the social position of the smoker the bigger the cigar, says the Detroit News. Tobacco being one of the principal products of the fertile island, and of a high grade, the cigars are usually homemade and cheap. Haiti, second island in size of the West Indies, is ranked as the most healthful of the group. The people are 90 per cent black, the rest being mostly mulattoes.

This engagement is in the nature of a return dance, as the band played for the American Legion dance at Bemidji on October 22nd, 250 couples being present. So well satisfied was the Legion with the music furnished that the musicians were retained for this evening's affair.

The Hedstrom band also furnished the music for the American Legion dance at Pine River on Monday night, the most successful event of its kind held in that town this season.

The band has gained a great deal of popularity throughout this section of the state the past season.

Minneapolis, Oct. 31—The Brooks-Scanlon Lumber company of Minneapolis have purchased 25,000 acres of white pine near Bend, Ore., for $1,000,000 from M. H. Alworth and J. L. Washburn of Duluth. The new timber will extend the company's milling operations at Bend three years. Dr. B. F. Brooks is president of the company and M. J. Scanlon is vice-president.

Expression.

Of course an Artist's whole problem must be, as Carlyle wrote to me, the expressing with articulate clearness, the thought in him—I am almost inclined to say that clear expression should be his only work and care, for he is born, ordained, such as he is—and not born learned in putting what was born in him into words—whatever can be clearly spoken out to be. But "briefs and mortar" is very easily said, and some of the thoughts in "Sordello" not so readily. I sin forty times in a day by light words and untrue to the thought.—Robert Browning.

Country of Women Smokers.

In Haiti, the country of the famous Toussaint l'Ouverture, the women nearly all smoke big black cigars, and the higher the social position of the smoker the bigger the cigar, says the Detroit News. Tobacco being one of the principal products of the fertile island, and of a high grade, the cigars are usually homemade and cheap. Haiti, second island in size of the West Indies, is ranked as the most healthful of the group. The people are 90 per cent black, the rest being mostly mulattoes.

THE RAGGYLUG DEN
Where Boy Scouts Meet

Here we are again. Last week Buck "spilled the beans" when he gave those two quick thumps on the ground that was a danger signal to Raggy, but he did not know about the ground signals that animals use so we will have to excuse him this time. What did you say, Bill? How will you know the Raggylug when you see him? Let me see. Well I'll tell you this much and no more. The only man that I know that has seen Raggy—and he claims he was very well acquainted with him—tells the story of how he had his left ear partly bitten off when he violated the 7th Scout Law when his mother was giving him his first lesson in trailing.

You ought to recognize him by his "bum" ear. The story goes like this:

What did you say Fred. Wait 'till the bunch is all here before I tell the story—well, I did not know that anyone had started off yet. Remember that every scout is to ask for permission to leave the crowd out here in the woods, and then he is to go with his "Buddy."

Here they come now, hear that Fox patrol "call"? What? Some birds? What kind? Oh, you did not recognize them. Well, let's all go over and see what these fellows have found. Everybody stalk, you lead the way Jim. Yes, I see them, easy Scouts. How many see them? Now, how many know what they are? Yes, I know, but lets see how many of you can identify them. Any one got a field observation card? You First Class scouts will be taking Merit Badge work in bird study soon, so don't go out without having your note book to jot down these things. What is the size? Between sparrow and robin. Right. Colors? Forehead, shoulders and underneath clear yellow; Lower back dull yellow; Sides of head, throat and breast Olive brown; Crown, tail and wings black—with white secondary feathers on wings; Bill heavy blunt ad yellow; What is the other bird? Yes, that is the female. How would you describe it? Brownish gray, diffused with yellow; Blackish tail and wings with some white feathers; Right, and she is not half as good looking as her spouse. How many do you think there are in that company? About forty. Yes, they go in flocks of about that many, sometimes as many as sixty have been seen. Now listen for their "voices."

Hear those females with their busy chatter—sounds like the "cherry" birds. Listen! Hear that male bird! He starts when his wife lets up for a minute. Just one single shrill note—and then his wife begins again—and he stops as if he was out of breath. Now, I'll write down the name of these birds and show it to our visiting brother here, and then you fellows that don't know what the birds are see if you can't identify them before we meet next week. Well, what do you know about that? Here it is, time to start for a mo., and we have not even started to look for Raggy today. But we have had a little bird study, and that is always interesting. Here is hoping that you can all identify these feathered friends before next week, they are going to be around here all winter and you will want to know more about them. Patrols, fall in! All present? Fine! Get your Buddy and away we go.

Harding Memorial Service

The call has come from our Chief Scout Executive that every Scout assemble and attend the Scout Memorial Service conducted for our late "Chief" on Friday night, Nov. 2nd.

The announcement of this memorial was made in the Dispatch of Oct. 29th, and has been sent to all papers of the county, and the full program is printed in today's "Scouting" column.

Ever Scout, unless unable to attend on account of illness, or some very good reason, is expected to answer the call of the Chief Executive, James E. West, and meet with his troop and attend this service. Brainerd scouts should be out 100%, and it is expected that a good showing will be made by the county troops. Every scout who has a uniform will wear it. A friend has passed—let us so emphasize the second scout law by our attendance at this memorial that it will have a new meaning to us as we pay our tribute to the friend who so loyal to us and to our movement.

BAD BACK TODAY?

Backache is usually kidney-ache and makes you dull, nervous and tired. Use Doan's Kidney Pills for weak kidneys—the remedy recommended by your friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. A. C. Hanson, 911 Kingwood St., Brainerd, says: "I had such a backache due to a disordered condition of my kidneys I was almost frantic. There was hardly a thing about the house I could do, my back was so sore and stiff. Stopping so irritated my back and kidneys I just had to give up. I had a constant, dull ache across the small of my back that just laid me out. I got such dizzy spells I didn't know what I was doing. I certainly was feeling miserable until I was led to use Doan's Kidney Pills. It only took a short time for Doan's to rid me of the misery and since then, my health has been fine." 60c, at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS MEET AT ST. PAUL

November 17th will be a red letter day in the history of Capital Masonry in the State of Minnesota. It is expected that one of the greatest Masonic meetings ever held in the state will take place in the Auditorium at St. Paul on the above date, when the Past Master and Most Excellent Master Degrees will be conferred on a class of more than 1,000 candidates.

The Royal Arch Chapters of the Twin Cities have organized this joint convocation, and all of the chapters in Minnesota have been invited to participate by having as many as possible of their members attend, and also by bringing their candidates to have the work conferred upon them. There will be special rates upon the railroads for the benefit of all Chapter Masons who desire to attend.

The ritualistic work will be done in a more impressive and spectacular manner than ever before attempted. About 750 people will take part in the work, the principal parts being handled by some of the most prominent Masonic workers in the United States. Among other important features there will be a chorus of 150 voices and an orchestra of 75 pieces. The second largest pipe-organ in the United States will be used in connection with the degree work.

All of the grand officers of the York Rite Bodies of the state of Minnesota, and also of a number of other states, will be present, and they will be attended by escorts of Knights Templar in full uniform. Every candidate receiving the degree at this joint convocation will receive a diploma signed by the General Grand High Priest of the General Grand Chapter of the United States, Dr. Wm. F. Kuhn, of Kansas City, Mo.

It is expected that about one hundred Chapter Masons from this jurisdiction will attend this meeting.

It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Tax Busses a la Railways
The problem of taxation of bus lines is expected to receive consideration at the next session of the legislature. Competition by the busses is resulting in local passenger trains being taken off by a number of railways in the state, the excellent condition of Minnesota roads making the operation of busses so profitable that more and more are being put into service. It is urged they be taxed on the same basis as the railroads.—Cokato Enterprise.

RUDYARD KIPLING SPEAKS ON INDEPENDENCE

THE Scottish University of St. Andrew each year invites a prominent man to be its Lord Rector who, thus honored, speaks to the youth gathered therein. In 1922 Sir James M. Barrie spoke on "Courage" in language that carried around the world and this year Rudyard Kipling followed with a message on "Independence" which bids fair to make an impression almost as powerful as that of Sir James.

The speaker appearing before the youth of the ancient university this year is a man of remarkable experience whose penetration and native ability guaranteed a message that would be different. Rudyard Kipling is one of the men in the world whose ability has been appraised and whose position is secure. More than once he has disappointed those in high places by his abrupt introduction of something that jarred upon them. Royalty did not like what he wrote about a lady of Windsor nor did those in authority relish what he wrote about the treatment meted out to "Tommy Atkins." These verses brought criticism, for they were out of tune. But, unlike music, which is spoiled by discords, speeches that are in accord with the universal and commonplace are not of much worth. It is the new and the adventurous that startles people and initiates thought on the matter thrown into the conflict of ideas.

It was to be expected that Rudyard Kipling would attack his subject from a new angle and he did not disappoint the expectant. His speech was penetrating. Said he: "The initial payments on the policy of one's independence then must be financed * * * out of the drinks that one does not too continuously take, the maidens in whom one does not too extravagantly rejoice, the entertainments that one does not too systematically attend or conduct, the transportation one does not too magnificently employ, the bets one does not too generally place, and the objects of beauty and desire that one does not too generously buy."

That the price of independence must be paid is stated in words such as these: "It would better suit the spirit of the age if personal independence could be guaranteed for all by some form of co-ordinated action combined with public assistance and so forth. Unfortunately there are still a few things in this world that a man must manage for himself; his own independence is one of them; and the obscure, repeated shifts and contrivances and abstentions necessary to the manufacture of it are too personal and intimate to expose to the inspection of any department, however sympathetic."

In words such as these the speaker pointed out to youth that he who would own himself must pay the price and whatever the price may be independence is worth it. But, after all, how little of independence there is, for, as Mr. Kipling says: (A man) "may tell himself and his friends what splendid things he would do were he his own master, but as his tribe goes so must he go—for his belly's sake." An empty stomach may speak louder than conscience.

THE EFFECT OF ECONOMY

MANY of the leaders in finance and industry are preaching a gospel of economy. It is sometimes hard to see where this would lead if it were practiced. It is true that those practicing economy would know more peace of mind, and if it became the governing principle in the lives of individuals and legislators, to say nothing of city councils and government boards, taxation might be reduced. But there is another side to this matter.

Individuals might be contented if they practiced economy, but despite the fact that this gospel is preached by great industrial and financial leaders, there always lies beneath the preachment the difficulty of seeing how industry can keep up the production under economy that it attains during a period of extravagance. Every unnecessary automobile purchased means employment for workers, profit for the maker and freight charges for the transportation companies. And the same is true when city councils and governmental departments are extravagant. Prodigal buying means production and restriction in buying, in the name of economy, results in decreased production.

Industry is so organized today that it lives on the demands of the people in various industries and occupations. A man no longer makes what he needs, others make what he needs and he buys. Limitation in buying must mean a reduction in manufacturing with corresponding evils. If men get along without things which they desire for reasons of economy they are reducing production to the extent of their refusal to satisfy their desires.

There is a tendency to stress economy because it is believed that extravagance is responsible for the unrest of the people. But periods of unrest have marked the progress of the race, and unrest that has become dangerous has not usually appeared in times in which the people were able to be extravagant in satisfying their desires, but rather from conditions of dire need.

Doubtless there is too much extravagance in the United States today, but the desire that underlies it is a mark of civilization, for an advanced civilization is characterized by the increase of demands. A dull and hopeless citizenship, that looked not to the satisfaction of its desires, would not make for national greatness or good workmanship. It is true that the people by their extravagance are tending to want more and more, and it is just as true that they will secure more and more.

However, with a sensible compromise between extravagance and economy it will be possible to reduce production and therefore wages and taxes and a simpler life will be lived. But neither those who preach this doctrine, without practicing it, nor those to whom it is preached are looking very keenly towards the day of the simple life. And, after all, there is no need to get excited over it, because these things adjust themselves, as the farmer who spent his money for things which he did not need and in land which he could not use is learning to his sorrow.

THE investigation into the affairs of the Veterans Bureau does not carry with it anything that would suggest extending political control to other activities in American life.

MINNESOTA'S ROADS

BETTER AND BETTER

TRUNK, COUNTY AND TOWNSHIP
ROADS ALL SHOW STEADY IMPROVEMENT

Minnesota is finishing another good roads year, says a state highway bulletin this week, and state, county and township roads as a whole never were in better condition. Favorable comments from Minnesota people as well as from tourists from other states indicate that everywhere in the state the new highway development plan is yielding big results.

Counties and townships generally are credited with big showings on local roads. Highway experts point to two important factors in their success. The taking over by the state of the main or trunk roads which formerly took more than three-fourths of all county road funds released more money for use on the important secondary roads. Next, the counties, and townships as well, began building more permanent types of roads, which experience has demonstrated give better satisfaction with the same or less outlay in the long run. Permanent grades built, road expenses in future years will be only those of surfacing and maintenance, with the result that property taxes for roads will be reduced even more rapidly than during the last three years.

The bulletin adds that Minnesota taxpayers, and particularly the farmers, realize now that the roads—farmers' railroads owned at home—must be improved eventually, and the sooner they are, the bigger the gains will be.

County and township figures are not yet available for the whole state, the highway bulletin gives only a preliminary statement of 1923 operations on trunk routes.

About 209 miles of new grading, 378 of graveling and 42 miles of paving will have been added during 1923 on the trunk highways—7,000 miles of so-called Habcok roads. In addition many new bridges have been constructed and others repaired. Also, maintenance forces have during the season regraveled 300 miles and reshaped 200 miles.

Progress in 1923 has not been up to that of the previous two seasons under the new plan because of lack of funds for a larger construction program. Maintenance is taking $3,000,000 of automobile tax receipts this year—about $400,000 more than last, and much of it is due to heavy expenditures made in efforts to keep passable the overburdened gravel sections.

Yellow and black markers, caution and guide signs of the permanent type were placed this season on practically the entire system, but the cost was small in comparison to the value put on them by highway users.

Trunk highway operations are to continue through the winter, as weather conditions permit, the bulletin adds. Contracts have been let for much winter graveling, also for grading and paving on which preparatory work can be done in cold weather. Virtually all the projected paving and much of the grading and graveling planned this winter and next summer is to be paid for with county reimbursement bonds. Although motor vehicle revenue—the only tax money used on state trunks—approximates $7,500,000 this year, it is explained, heavy demands for maintenance needs and interest on county bonds left a relatively small amount for new state construction. That is the answer to the often-asked question, "Why aren't they working on the state roads this year like last and the year before?" says the bulletin. But the program is working out as planned and the important consideration is mainly that of putting the income to use in the way that will bring the best returns.

Patrolmen on the trunk highways now are instructed to watch conditions closely toward insuring smooth roads when the winter freeze-up occurs.

REVIEWS WORK OF WATER & LIGHT BD.

Commissioner A. A. Arnold Tells of Building Projects Concluded in 1923

NO CONTRACT WORK ENGAGED IN

Increase in Electric Consumption Comes About at a Wholly Unexpected Rate

An interview today with A. A. Arnold, a member of the Water & Light Board, brought forth the following regarding the work done by the board this summer.

Last week the Water & Light Board concluded its building projects for the year 1923. More work could have been done had more money been available except that freezing weather would soon end work anyway. At this time of the year large sums of money must be accumulated to make payments of bonds and interest on bonds during the final months of the year; and, as there is no cash surplus to draw on, such sums must be raised by the usual monthly earnings or collections during the last few months.

The maintenance and extension work in this department has grown by leaps and bounds in recent years. This year the crews were busy mostly relaying old water mains. These were in all parts of the city, and usually only two or three blocks at a place. New pipe was also laid on a few streets where none existed heretofore; this was done to aid circulation and complete service in congested districts. Extensions consisted only of small sized galvanized pipe in a few places close at hand pending such time, not far distant, when regular mains must be laid there.

All in all, this work has consisted of replacing one mile of old 6-inch kalamine pipe with 6 and 8 inch cast iron pipe, and adding about one mile of new 6 inch one mile of 4 inch, and one mile of galvanized pipe from 3-4 to 2 inches in diameter.

This is not as large a total mileage as in other years, but this work was done in widely separated places, and as pipe was difficult to obtain this year, the work was done by small crews and never staying long in any one place. The Board did all the work itself, using its regular force of men and hiring such laborers as were needed for trench digging. Married men were given preference, a fine crew was developed, and splendid work and costs were obtained. No contract work of any kind was engaged in.

There now remains two stretches of five blocks each of kalamine pipe, on North Seventh and North Eighth streets, second ward, and after that is replaced all of the bad pipe in the old system will have been eliminated. That may be concluded next year.

The ground around the water tower was made to appear presentable. Plowed, seeded, fenced, cement walk built, and fountain constructed all has added greatly to beautify the place and the city as well. It is simply one of the Board's plans, to keep its possessions as orderly as possible.

The grounds at the pump station have been fenced by a substantial fence, and a cement walk and stairway have been built to the station. Although these things help make the place look orderly, they do far more to making the place more useful and safer. These are matters that had been deferred too long, but it was deferred with the idea that the main reason for our attention first.

The electric crews have been busy, too, trying to keep up with the demands for new services and rearranging old lines to improve the system. Much was done that had been held off for several years past. The growth of the demand has become so big that the electric distribution system has become inadequate and is losing in efficiency. Next year a very comprehensive program of rearrangement and the addition of larger sized wires will have to be undertaken or service might become less satisfactory in places than should be the case. With less immediate work to be required henceforth in the water department, it will be possible to revise the wire system in short time. The increase in consumption of electricity has come about at a wholly unexpected rate. It is planned to have a new switchboard at the pump station from which place all electric current used in Brainerd will be distributed.

CHARGE RECEIVING STOLEN PROPERTY

Mrs. Herbert Wahl and Brother John Brawley of Ideal Township in Court

BOUND OVER TO DISTRICT COURT

Bonds in Each Case Set at $2,000, Evidence Given at the Hearing

Mrs. Herbert Wahl and her brother John Brawley, of Ideal township, were arraigned in municipal court this morning, charged with receiving stolen property. They were given an examination and bound over to the district court, bonds in each case being set at $2,000.

According to the evidence introduced at the hearing, ten men's overcoats, valued at more than $300 were shipped from Boston, Mass., and consigned to a firm in Portland, Ore. The seal on the freight car containing these coats was found broken by an inspector when the car reached Jamestown, N. D.

In this case was also a shipment of a case of silk hosiery from McCulloch Hosiery Co., in the East, to Portland, Oregon. 470 pairs of men's silk hose were found with some men's overcoats by the local sheriff's force in a raid on the place known as the Wahl place, in Ideal township near Cross Lake.

When the officers made the first search on Oct. 24th, they found that Herbert Wahl had been there the night before, but no trace of him could be found on that day. He was indicted for the theft of an automobile in 1919 and the officers had a bench warrant with them for his arrest, when they went to his place on the above date.

Two pairs of Florsheim shoes were found in the Wahl house having the same stock number as the shoes that were in a shipment from the Florsheim Co., in Chicago to Red Lodge, Mont., which were in another car that had been broken into and shoes taken.

The officers also found two blankets which were identified as being identical to the blankets shipped from Farwell, Ozman, Kirk & Co., St. Paul, to the Bragg Hardware Co., Walker. This shipment of blankets was in a car broken into along the line between St. Paul and Brainerd, where two blankets were found missing.

The box that contained the blankets had been opened and blankets were scattered around the floor of the car, it was brought out in the testimony.

The officers again searched the Wahl farm on Oct. 27th, and brought back large numbers of sheets, pillow cases and towels that had apparently never been used or laundered, also many bolts and partial bolts of dress goods, both silk and other materials.

W. C. O. F. CARD PARTY

First of Series of Six Staged by Fraternal Association is Very Successful

The first of the series of six card parties, staged Tuesday afternoon at the K. C. hall by the Womens Catholic Order of Foresters, was a big success from every point of view. Between ninety and one hundred ladies were present, and spent a most enjoyable afternoon.

The hall was decorated in the Hallowe'en spirit, pumpkins and Japanese lanterns predominating. The favors at the tables and at the luncheon which followed were also in keeping with the season.

Bridge whist and five hundred were the games played. Prizes were awarded for the high score in each. Mrs. C. B. Rowley took first prize in bridge and Mrs. Robert Jaeger in five hundred.

The committee in charge of the event included Mrs. M. E. Ryan, chairman, Mrs. H. O. Gaskill, Mrs. Dean White, Mrs. G. W. Smith, Mrs. Julius Deering, Mrs. Margaret Larkin, Mrs. John Russell, and Mrs. J. B. McCabe.

The afternoon closed with a delicious luncheon.

This is the first of a series, the proceeds of which will be used in entertaining courts from nearby towns in a big silver jubilee celebration later in the season, marking the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Womens Catholic Order of Foresters. The card parties are being held in the afternoon so that there may be no conflicting with any evening programs that other societies may have planned.

The date for the next event has not as yet been decided upon, but will be announced in due time. Just what form it will take has not fully been planned, either. It may be another card party, a home talent theatrical or a benefit motion picture show.

Brainerd lodge expects a large attendance from every part of its wide jurisdiction. Newspaper mention was made of the meeting in ten papers in the jurisdiction, individual letters written and individual solicitation also made.

The Elks' Quartet will sing.

Announcement will also be made of the home talent play, "Kathleen," to be staged November 19 and 20 at the New Park theatre. A director sent out by the John B. Rogers Producing company will arrive in Brainerd November 2 to start rehearsals.

The annual minstrel show to be staged early next year will give place to the lodge talent which is just anxious to dance and sing and rattle dem bones.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Housewives Give Testimony That It Brings Them to the Stores, They Patronize Advertisers

The St. Cloud Journal-Press in a recent editorial, stated the value of newspaper advertising as follows:

The Minneapolis Advertising club is seeking information from the best class of purchasers—housewives—as to what kind of advertising most appeals to them in their shopping. It selected three ladies who were out on a shopping tour, and they told the club members they carefully read the advertisements in the newspapers, paid close attention to prices, expected merchants to live up to their promises, were interested in illustrations of articles offered for sale.

"Newspaper advertising brings us to the stores, but whether we buy depends somewhat upon sales people. Some sell the goods as advertised and some drive us out of the stores, after the papers have brought us in," was the substance of their comments. That is the general view of women who are shrewd shoppers, and who do most of the purchasing for the family.

They want good quality for their coin, and truthful advertising. They depend on the daily papers to supply them with the offerings of merchants, and they patronize the stores that advertise. What is true of the value of newspaper advertising in Minneapolis is true of every other city in the land.

PARK BOARD BUSY AT LUM PARK

Improvements Contemplated to Give Park an Entirely New Aspect

BATH HOUSE NEW LOCATION

Bids Being Asked to Install Water System on the Grounds

The Brainerd park board is making rapid strides with the improvements at Lum park, and it is stated that this popular resort will present an entirely new aspect next season.

The bath houses have all been moved from their former locations near the water's edge to higher ground. This change was made so that an unobstructed view could be had of the lake from the pavilion, and also because the ice in the spring did much damage to the houses.

The men's bath house has been moved to the east and rebuilt in the form of a quadrangle, a new portion was added, so that there are now sixty-four dressing rooms for men.

The ladies bath house was moved to the west, to about the same site that was formerly occupied by one of the children's bath houses, the latter being moved still further to the west. New roof were built for all of these houses.

The Park Board is now asking for bids to install a water system on the grounds, so that good drinking water from a deep well will be available in all sections of the park.

During the winter, piling will be driven at the end of the dock, and a good band stand erected out over the water. The nature of the shore line provides a natural amphitheater on both sides of the dock, and a band stand so situated is an ideal innovation. Speakers who may address audiences at Lum park in the future will be able to reach the greatest numbers with the least effort.

The dance floor in the pavilion is to be taken up this winter and repaired. Due to faulty construction, it is said, the floor joists have been ruined by a dry rot. These will be exchanged for new ones and the floor re-laid and refinished.

The work of grubbing out the south side of the park and along the creek in the new west addition, is rapidly nearing completion. All trees have been trimmed, too, which should add materially to the appearance of the grounds.

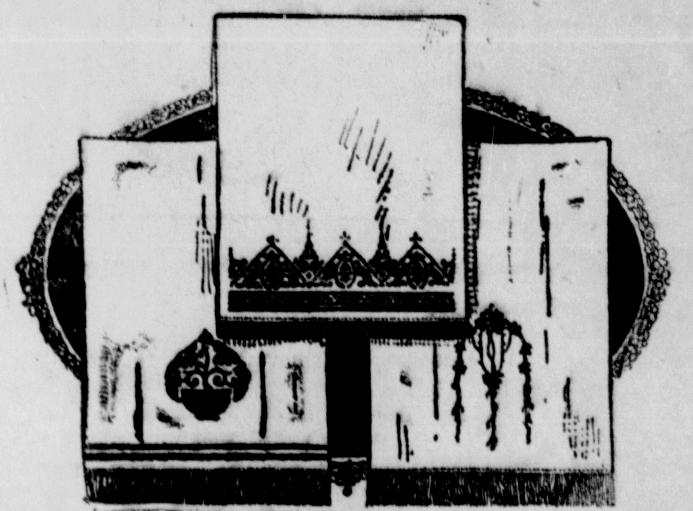

These improvements are being made during the fall and winter so that the coming of the park will not be delayed in the spring.

The park board feels that the past season has been a most successful one at Lum park from every point of view, and it is believed that next season will eclipse any in the history of Brainerd's amusement center.

REVIEWS WORK OF CHARGE RECEIVING WATER & LIGHT BD. STOLEN PROPERTY

Commissioner A. A. Arnold Tells of Building Projects Concluded in 1923

NO CONTRACTWORK ENGAGED IN
Increase in Electric Consumption Comes About at a Wholly Unexpected Rate

An interview today with A. A. Arnold, a member of the Water & Light Board, brought forth the following regarding the work done by the board this summer.

Last week the Water & Light Board concluded its building projects for the year 1923. More work could have been done had more money been available except that freezing weather would soon end work anyway. At this time of the year large sums of money must be accumulated to make payments of bonds and interest on bonds during the final months of the year; and, as there is no cash surplus to draw on, such sums must be raised by the usual monthly earnings or collections during the last few months.

The maintenance and extension work in this department has grown by leaps and bounds in recent years. This year the crews were busy mostly relaying old water mains. These were in all parts of the city, and usually only two or three blocks at a place. New pipe was also laid on a few streets where none existed heretofore; this was done to aid circulation and complete service in congested districts. Extensions consisted only of small sized galvanized pipe in a few places close at hand pending such time, not far distant, when regular mains must be laid there.

All in all, this work has consisted of replacing one mile of old 6-inch kaimein pipe with 6 and 8 inch cast iron pipe, and adding about one mile of new 6 inch one mile of 4 inch, and one mile of galvanized pipe from 3-4 to 2 inches in diameter.

This is not as large a total mileage as in other years, but this work was done in widely separated places, and as pipe was difficult to obtain this year, the work was done by small crews and never staying long in any one place. The Board did all the work itself, using its regular force of men and hiring such laborers as were needed for trench digging. Married men were given preference, a fine crew was developed, and splendid work and costs were obtained. No contract work of any kind was engaged in.

There now remains two stretches of five blocks each of kaimein pipe, on North Seventh and North Eighth streets, second ward, and after that is replaced all of the bad pipe in the old system will have been eliminated. That may be concluded next year.

The ground around the water tower was made to appear presentable. Plowed, seeded, fenced, cement walk built, and fountain constructed all has added greatly to beautify the place and the city as well. It is simply one of the Board's plans, to keep its possessions as orderly as possible.

The grounds at the pump station have been fenced by a substantial fence, and a cement walk and stairway have been built to the station. Although these things help make the place look orderly, they do far more to making the place more useful and safer. These are matters that had been deferred too long, but it was deferred with the idea that the main required all our attention first.

The electric crews have been busy, too, trying to keep up with the demands for new services and rearranging old lines to improve the system. Much was done that had been held off for several years past. The growth of the demand has become so big that the electric distribution system has become inadequate and is losing in efficiency. Next year a very comprehensive program of rearrangement and the addition of larger sized wires will have to be undertaken or service might become less satisfactory in places than should be the case. With less immediate work to be required henceforth in the water department, it will be possible to revise the wire system in short time. The increase in consumption of electricity has come about at a wholly unexpected rate. It is planned to have a new switch board at the pump station from which place all electric current used in Brainerd will be distributed.

Mrs. Herbert Wahl and Brother John Brawley of Ideal Township in Court

BOUND OVER TO DISTRICT COURT
Bonds in Each Case Set at $2,000. Evidence Given at the Hearing

Mrs. Herbert Wahl and her brother, John Brawley, of Ideal township, were arraigned in municipal court this morning, charged with receiving stolen property. They were given an examination and bound over to the district court, bonds in each case being set at $2,000.

According to the evidence introduced at the hearing, ten men's overcoats, valued at more than $300 were shipped from Boston, Mass., and consigned to a firm in Portland, Ore. The seal on the freight car containing these coats was found broken by an inspector when the car reached Jamestown, N. D.

In this car was also a shipment of a case of silk hosiery from McCulloch Hosiery Co., in the East, to Portland, Oregon. 470 pairs of men's silk hose were found with some men's overcoats by the local sheriff's force in a raid on the place known as the Wahl place, in Ideal township near Cross Lake.

When the officers made the first search on Oct. 24th, they found that Herbert Wahl had been there the night before, but no trace of him could be found on that day. He was indicted for the theft of an automobile in 1919 and the officers had a bench warrant with them for his arrest, when they went to his place on the above date.

Two pairs of Florsheim shoes were found in the Wahl house having the same stock number as the shoes that were in a shipment from the Florsheim Co., in Chicago to Red Lodge, Mont., which were in another car that had been broken into and shoes taken.

The officers also found two blankets which were identified as being identical to the blankets shipped from Farwell, Ozman, Kirk & Co., St. Paul, to the Bragg Hardware Co., Walker. This shipment of blankets was in a car broken into along the line between St. Paul and Brainerd, where two blankets were found missing.

The box that contained the blankets had been opened and blankets were scattered around the floor of the car. It was brought out in the testimony.

The officers again searched the Wahl farm on Oct. 27th, and brought back large numbers of sheets, pillow cases and towels that had apparently never been used or laundered, also many bolts and partial bolts of dress goods, both silk and other materials.

SPORTS

FUEL FOR THE HOT STOVE LEAGUE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Oct. 31.—Fuel aplenty is stacked up in the bin to keep the fires glowing this winter for the Hot Stove League, whatever that means. The Hot Stove League is like the All-American football team—a mythical thing that provides enough arguments to carry the sport through the off-season when there is no active food for conversation.

The pennant races and the world's series will be fought all over again and the second-guessers will have their annual opportunity for discussing the whys and wherefores of the late season. Juries will be drawn and managerial crimes will be heard.

There is as much interest in figuring what the major league teams will do next year, as there is in deciding why they didn't do certain things last season.

Not figuring on the New York Yankees at all, there isn't a single team in the big leagues that can feel safe in depending on the same team for a better position in the 1924 pennant races.

In the opinion of John McGraw, the manager of the Giants, who had a fine opportunity to observe just what kind of a good team Miller Huggins has to present next year as the world's champions, the Yankees need only some added strength behind the bat and there is no dangerous weakness in that department.

Being a shrewd builder, Huggins, however, is not likely to take it easy during the winter and feel assured of another pennant simply because he had an easy time turning in the championship last season.

The Yankees, no doubt, will be strengthened with an eye to the future, more than through a feeling that there is any immediate demand for reconstruction of the club.

The pennant race of 1923 is almost as important now as next year's fight for the flag to the owners of the champion Yankees. The necessity of building strongly and well for a stretch of seasons in the future was wisely expressed in the words of Jack Hendricks, the dashing manager of the Indianapolis American Association club.

"Can you imagine a seventh-place club in that huge two million-dollar ball park?" Hendricks said during the world's series.

Col. Jake Ruppert has a tremendous investment in the ball park and it will remain a paying proposition only as long as the Yanks succeed in being a prominent factor in the championship.

The Yankees are not a young ball club and neither are they tottering on the edge of senility. They have one or two spots where younger blood would speed up the machine next year, and perhaps younger blood will be in those spots when the 1924 season opens.

Notre Dame Leaves Opening to Accept Western Invitation

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 31.—Let the representative team of the state of California extend to the University of Notre Dame an invitation to play on the coast Christmas day, and Knute Rockne's master machine will meet them there in an East vs. West game.

That is believed to be the hidden story carried between the lines of the official statement issued by the athletic board of control following its session at the university.

The faculty ruling passed two years ago relative to the Notre Dame game to be played on the west coast stipulated that only the Tournament of Roses games could be considered, the statement says.

"Offers received this year from Los Angeles and other cities are still so indefinite that no reason is seen for rescinding the faculty ruling."

Notre Dame students are confident that the board's statement leaves an opening for the "right" invitation from the west coast.

There is little opposition to the Notre Dame invasion of the west among faculty members, because of the two weeks' Christmas vacation at Notre Dame, Rockne, however, will not go into California unless the offer includes traveling expenses for his full squad, it is understood.

M. A. C. SWIMMERS IN 20 MILE TEST

Minneapolis, Oct. 31.—A new contest, calculated to keep the swimmers of the Minneapolis Athletic club throughout the winter, has been planned by Claude Hatcheller, swimming coach.

It is a 20 mile swim to extend over 121 days from Nov. 1 to March 1.

The members will be entitled to credit for any distance up to a quarter of a mile each day. Thus it will require 80 days at the very least to complete the 20 miles. The first to swim the full distance will receive a gold championship medal and the next 15 will have their choice of bathrobes, jersey coats or bathing suits.

The M. A. C. water polo team is hard at practice for games with the St. Paul A. C. and the Ryan team.

Sheffield is still credited with making the best steel in the world. Its virtues are attributed partly to the secrets known only to the manufacturers, and partly to the water used in tempering it.

STRAIGHTAWAY PIN LOOP WILL START MONDAY

FRATERNAL LEAGUE WILL ORGANIZE IN THE NEAR FUTURE

A representative number of bowlers were present Monday evening at the first meeting of the Brainerd Bowling association to complete plans for an active 1923-24 season.

Four captains were present with team line-ups for a straightaway league and the meeting decided to start active competition in this league next Monday evening, Nov. 5th, at 8 o'clock. The clubs represented are Frank & James, Alderman-Maghan, Smraker Bros., and a fourth which has not yet been named. These four teams consist of the cream of Brainerd's maple topplers and can be depended on for bettering some of the records which were chalked up last season.

Organization of a Fraternal league was discussed from all angles and committees appointed to get in touch with the different fraternal lodges in the city which are interested in entering a team under their colors. It was decided to make this a handicap league so as to give the weaker manipulators of the spheroid an even chance with the more experienced bowlers. In this way members of the straightaway loop may also enter the fraternal league without having any advantage over the newer additions of the bowling fraternity.

Four teams are practically certain to enter this loop including the Elks, K. C. and American Legion. Other organizations or individuals may gain detailed information regarding this league by communicating with R. E. Stephenson, president of the Brainerd Bowling association. The league will be limited to six teams.

Zbyszko and Plestina Draw After 2½ Hours

New York, Oct. 31.—Wladek Zbyszko, Polish wrestler, and Marion Plestina of Chicago started wrestling at 10 o'clock Monday night and continued it until 12:30 but neither was able to down the other and their bout was declared a draw.

Both men were on their feet when officials of the state athletic commission called a halt. Each had flurried with defeat a couple of times. Plestina was the stronger man but his strength was nullified by Zbyszko's science and toward the close the Pole was doing most of the forcing.

The crowd was so interested in the match that few knew of the collapse of a section of grandstand which sent one man to a hospital and brought medical attention to 13 others.

"Verdict" Wins the Cambridgeshire Race

Newmarket, Eng., Oct. 31.—Lord Coventry's Verdict won the Cambridgeshire stakes here today, beating the famous French horse, Epinard, which is talked of for a race with the British Derby winner, Papyrus.

Epinard came in second with Geo. Hardy's Dumas third. Twenty-three ran.

GOPHERS WON'T BE DROPPED, SAYS YOST

Ann Arbor, Oct. 31.—Reports that Minnesota would be dropped from the Michigan football schedule next year, which gained large circulation here Sunday, have been printed in certain Sunday papers, were refuted by Fielding H. Yost, director of inter-collegiate athletics today.

"We have no intention whatever of dropping Minnesota and as a matter of fact we plan to continue our present arrangements and keep the Gophers on our schedule. I cannot see how the report originated," he said.

M. E. BASKETBALL TEAM GIVES SUPPER

The Brainerd M. E. basketball team is now thoroughly organized and is developing rapidly into a first-class, snappy team. Coach Welsh states that he expects to have his men whipped into shape to commence their attack on all comers within the next few weeks.

The team is large composed of ex-high school stars, and consists of the following: Welsh, Cunningham, Hess, A. Fitzsimmons, E. Fitzsimmons and several others.

The boys are giving a supper, with the assistance of the ladies of the

"Luck" Admirably Portrayed by Johnny Hines and Notable Cast at New Park Last Time Tonight

There's a right royal comedy-drama at the New Park theatre that may justly be called one of the finest features of its kind. "Luck" is its title and Johnny Hines is its star, aided and abetted by a cast of prominent screen players who know their business and accomplish it in convincing style. Particularly heartening is the fact that in his graduation from the two reel to the feature comedy class, Johnny Hines has again definitely proven that he belongs where he is now—in comedy-drama features. While the public has become familiar with the comic qualities of Hines through his successful efforts in the "Torchy" comedies, there has ever lurked the suspicion that Johnny also possesses dramatic qualities as well, all of which is proven in "Luck," just as it was previously noticeable in "Sure-Fire Flint," his former feature starring vehicle.

In this respect, Hines is greatly similar to Charlie Chaplin, for Chaplin's dramatic force was beautifully portrayed in "The Kid."

First Methodist church, on next Tuesday evening from 5:30 to 8 o'clock in the social rooms of the church. This is to finance the team and everyone is invited to attend and bring their friends. There will be music during the supper hour.

Mexican Player Is Drafted by Yankees

New York, Oct. 31.—Adolfo Arguijo, a Mexican baseball player, has been drafted by the New York Yankees from the Corsicana club of the Texas association, and will report to Manager Huggins at the training camp next spring. If he survives the training period, he will be the first Mexican ever to play in major league baseball.

Arguijo, according to Scout Bob Connery, who discovered him, is a right handed pitcher, with burning speed and a sharp breaking curve at his command.

WHEN KIDNEYS HURT DRINK MORE WATER

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Thrilling Aerial Scenes Big Feature of Photoplay "The Go-Getter"

The most thrilling and picturesque aerial scenes ever staged for a motion picture, it is said, were made in the filming of "The Go-Getter," a Cosmopolitan picturization of a Peter B. Kyne story, which E. H. Griffith directed and which will be the feature at the Lyceum Theatre for two days beginning tonight.

"The shooting" of these scenes took place at Curtiss Aviation Field, Mineola, and other parts of Long Island and in the International Studios in New York.

This particular part of the picture entails nothing but night scenes, the most spectacular of which is one showing a race between an aeroplane and a speeding express train. This scene is expected to be a revelation when shown upon the screen, especially the part where the speeding train is shown as "shot" from the flying aeroplane. It brings to the screen some directorial ingenuity and also some exceptionally splendid photography.

FUEL FOR THE HOT STOVE LEAGUE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Oct. 31.—Fuel aplenty is stacked up in the bin to keep the fires glowing this winter for the Hot Stove League, whatever that means. The Hot Stove League is like the All-American football team—a mythical thing that provides enough arguments to carry the sport through the off-season when there is no active food for conversation.

The pennant races and the world's series will be fought all over again and the second-guessers will have their annual opportunity for discussing the whys and wherefores of the late season. Juries will be drawn and managerial crimes will be heard.

There is as much interest in figuring what the major league teams will do next year, as there is in deciding why they didn't do certain things last season.

Not figuring on the New York Yankees at all, there isn't a single team in the big leagues that can feel safe in depending on the same team for a better position in the 1924 pennant races.

In the opinion of John McGraw, the manager of the Giants, who had a fine opportunity to observe just what kind of a good team Miller Huggins has to present next year as the world's champions, the Yankees need only some added strength behind the bat and there is no dangerous weakness in that department.

Being a shrewd builder, Huggins, however, is not likely to take it easy during the winter and feel assured of another pennant simply because he had an easy time turning in the championship last season.

The Yankees, no doubt, will be strengthened with an eye to the future, more than through a feeling that there is any immediate demand for reconstruction of the club.

The pennant race of 1923 is almost as important now as next year's fight for the flag to the owners of the champion Yankees. The necessity of building strongly and well for a stretch of seasons in the future was wisely expressed in the words of Jack Hendricks, the dashing manager of the Indianapolis American Association club.

"Can you imagine a seventh-place club in that huge two million-dollar ball park?" Hendricks said during the world's series.

Col. Jake Ruppert has a tremendous investment in the ball park and it will remain a paying proposition only as long as the Yanks succeed in being a prominent factor in the championship.

The Yankees are not a young ball club and neither are they tottering on the edge of senility. They have one or two spots where younger blood would speed up the machine next year, and perhaps younger blood will be in those spots when the 1924 season opens.

Notre Dame Leaves Opening to Accept Western Invitation

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 31.—Let the representative team of the state of California extend to the University of Notre Dame an invitation to play on the coast Christmas day, and Knute Rockne's master machine will meet them there in an East vs. West game.

That is believed to be the hidden story carried between the lines of the official statement issued by the athletic board of control following its session at the university.

The faculty ruling passed two years ago relative to the Notre Dame game to be played on the west coast stipulated that only the Tournament of Roses games could be considered, the statement says.

"Offers received this year from Los Angeles and other cities are still so indefinite that no reason is seen for rescinding the faculty ruling."

Notre Dame students are confident that the board's statement leaves an opening for the "right" invitation from the west coast.

There is little opposition to the Notre Dame invasion of the west among faculty members, because of the two weeks' Christmas vacation at Notre Dame. Rockne, however, will not go into California unless the offer includes traveling expenses for his full squad, it is understood.

M. A. C. SWIMMERS IN 20 MILE TEST

Minneapolis, Oct. 31.—A new contest, calculated to keep the swimmers of the Minneapolis Athletic club throughout the winter, has been planned by Claude Batcheller, swimming coach.

It is a 20 mile swim to extend over 121 days from Nov. 1 to March 1.

The members will be entitled to credit for any distance up to a quarter of a mile each day. Thus it will require 80 days at the very least to complete the 20 miles. The first to swim the full distance will receive a gold championship medal and the next 15 will have their choice of bathrobes, jersey coats or bathing suits.

The M. A. C. water polo team is hard at practice for games with the St. Paul A. C. and the Ryan team.

Sheffield Steel Supreme. Sheffield is still credited with making the best steel in the world. Its virtues are attributed partly to the secrets known only to the manufacturers, and partly to the water used in tempering it.

STRAIGHTAWAY PIN LOOP WILL START MONDAY

FRATERNAL LEAGUE WILL ORGANIZE IN THE NEAR FUTURE

A representative number of bowlers were present Monday evening at the first meeting of the Brainerd Bowling association to complete plans for an active 1923-24 season.

Four captains were present with team lineups for a straightaway league and the meeting decided to start active competition in this league next Monday evening, Nov. 5th, at 8 o'clock. The clubs represented are Frank & James, Alderman-Maghan, Smraker Bros., and a fourth which has not yet been named. These four teams consist of the cream of Brainerd's maple toppers and can be depended on for bettering some of the records which were chalked up last season.

Organization of a Fraternal league was discussed from all angles and committees appointed to get in touch with the different fraternal lodges in the city which are interested in entering a team under their colors. It was decided to make this a handicap league so as to give the weaker manipulators of the spheroid an even chance with the more experienced bowlers. In this way members of the straightaway loop may also enter the fraternal league without having any advantage over the newer additions of the bowling fraternity.

Four teams are practically certain to enter this loop including the Elks, K. Cs and American Legion. Other organizations or individuals may gain detailed information regarding this league by communicating with R. E. Stephenson, president of the Brainerd Bowling association. The league will be limited to six teams.

Zbyszko and Plestina Draw After 2½ Hours

New York, Oct. 31.—Wladek Zbyszko, Polish wrestler, and Marion Plestina of Chicago started wrestling at 10 o'clock Monday night and continued it until 12:30 but neither was able to down the other and their bout was declared a draw.

Both men were on their feet when officials of the state athletic commission called a halt. Each had flinched with defeat a couple of times. Plestina was the stronger man but his strength was nullified by Zbyszko's science and toward the close the Pole was doing most of the forcing.

The crowd was so interested in the match that few knew of the collapse of a section of grandstand which sent one man to a hospital and brought medical attention to 13 others.
